

IMAGINE DISASTERS WITHOUT THE POWER OF VOLUNTEERS

2014 marks 25 years of National Volunteer Week.

A week when we take time to celebrate the volunteers who make it possible for us to prepare, respond, recover and provide relief in times of disaster and emergency.

Thank you to all the emergency service volunteers on the frontline and behind the scenes who help us fight fires, protect us against flood waters, who rebuild fences, rescue our native animals and clean up our environment.

Thank you to those volunteers who support our communities in our moments of need.
